William Parsons, 3rd Earl of Rosse

Astronomy and the castle in nineteenth-century Ireland

Edited by Charles Mollan

This is a revealing account of the family life and achievements of the Third Earl of Rosse, a hereditary peer and resident landlord at Birr Castle, County Offaly, in nineteenth-century Ireland, before, during and after the devastating famine of the 1840s. He was a remarkable engineer, who built enormous telescopes in the cloudy middle of Ireland.

Navigation on Wood – Wooden Navigational Instruments 1590-1731

by Nicolàs de Hilster (815pp, Castricum 2018)

Over the course of a decade and half, SIS member Nicolàs de Hilster has brought his knowledge as a professional hydrographic surveyor and woodworking skills to bear on constructing replicas of all the navigational instruments commonly in use before the adoption of telescopic sights. Researching their origins, relative merits and accuracy when used has resulted in a PhD for Nicolàs. The present, beautifully produced hardback book is the summation of that work and gives a comprehensive account of the history of these instruments and how they work.
